Note to People who Need Copy to be Written:

Hi. My name is Colin.

I run a popular discussion group for copywriters called "The Cult of Copy". (You can join at <https://www.facebook.com/groups/cultofcopy/>).

Because of that, people ask me all the time If I can help them find a writer, and I used to let them post their job offerings in the group.

As the group grew to thousands of members, there were so many posts about jobs that it was hindering the discussions.

So we created a spin off group, strictly for writers to post about their services, and for businesses to post writing jobs. (You can join that group at <http://Facebook.com/groups/copyjobs>)

Well, that group also grew to have thousands of members and while there are tons of jobs posted, they push down all the posts from writers who want to let people know about their services.

So that is why I have created this guide. Any writers who offer copy services to businesses can be listed here for a small monthly fee. I distribute this guide to many groups and forums and individual contacts who ask me for a referral to a good writer.

The hope is to create a win-win for the marketing community we are all part of, so I hope you find this guide useful!

Thanks, enjoy, and good luck out there.

Rev. Dr. Sir Colin D. Theriot
Pontifex Maximus,
The Cult of Copy

P.S. Should you ever have any kind of bad experience with anyone you hire here or in my groups, do let me know directly via my contact info below. I take the quality of his resource very seriously.

Thanks again!

Note to People who WRITE COPY:

Hello. My name is Colin.

As a former freelance copywriter myself, I know what it can be like to have to split your time between looking for clients and fulfilling the work you already have.

Let me help you connect with people who need copy work done. As the admin of a very large discussion group for copywriting (<http://Facebook.com/groups/cultofcopy>), and as a copywriting teacher, I get asked all the time to refer writers for projects.

From now on, I will be giving them this document when they ask. I am also going to be distributing this document to every group and location that I am allowed to.

So if you write copy for clients, and you would like to be listed in the next month's edition of this list, you must first join the following group:

<http://Facebook.com/groups/copyjobs>

Then in the "Pinned Post" at the top of the group, you will find instructions on how to subscribe and submit your listing information.

Thank you!

And good luck out there.

Rev. Dr. Sir Colin D. Theriot
Pontifex Maximus,
The Cult of Copy

P.S. Even if you don't want to be listed in the guide, it's a good idea to join that group and browse for job postings if you are looking to fill an empty spot in your calendar.

Thanks again!

Testimonials

Traian Sava – #1 Survival Marketer

"We hired Blake to write an email sequence for Back Yard Liberty. He did such a great job we kept him on the team for over year. Writing almost daily emails. We do plan on hiring him again in the near future and possibly getting an exclusive for our market."

Keith Baxter – Online Traffic Kingpin

"Blake, If you are still writing autoresponder sequences, then Armando is looking for the best writer on the market."

Michael Hearne – Copywriter

"Chris - Blake is the copywriter I mentioned to you... He was recommended to me by Keith Baxter from a project he did with Michael Lovitch - if you know Michael you know that means Blake is a good copywriter."

Charlie Hutton – Best Selling Author

Testimonial: "They are not interested in giving you "glamour metrics" that make them look good but don't move the needle on the business. Our old team was patting themselves on the back for the number of leads they were getting us, and the price they were getting them for. GS Media wasn't afraid to tell us that they might be taking a dip in # of leads and the price but they would get us the RIGHT leads. Trusting them has yielded a huge increase in our ROI. They said it to me when we were considering hiring them: They are all business owners so they approach ads the way a business owner would, not an ads team. They have lived up to that and it has made all the difference." - Troy Allen

Testimonial: “When I heard others that I admire, talked about Tim’s good work, I was determined that I want no one else but Tim to write the copy for my portfolio. I was super happy that he accepted me as a client, even though I had to wait for more than 30 days since he is so high in-demand. I wanted to stand out from other designers and believe me, I do now! Tim definitely OVERDELIVERED! Not only that the whole process of collaboration was seamlessly smooth, but he actually delivered before the deadline. Every time I re-read my copy I find a hidden gimmick or two that subconsciously push the reader to become a buyer. AMAZING! Tim really is a Michael Jordan of conversion copywriting. If you want to win, be sure to have Tim on your team!” ~Jaka Smid (successfully exited 7 figure business, now a high-end UX consultant)
